New Steamer Makes an Adventurous Trip in Safety.

Victoria.

Montreal, May 30.—The Richileau & Ontario Navigation company's new steamer Montreal, built at Toronto last winter, arrived down today. As the steamer was too large to pass the canal, she shot all the rapids of the St. Lawrence. When she arrived at the head of the Lachine rapids, a heavy wind was blowing, and she remained at anchor until a favorable opportunity presented itself. This came this afternoon, and the big steamer, lightened as much as possible, made the trip in safety. She is by far the largest and longest vessel that ever passed the rapids. Pilots Ouelette and Batten, who brought her down, received $1,000 each for their services.

The Mount Vernon, Washington, ball team was beaten out by one run by the Vancouver team today. The fun was fast and furious from first to last. Vancouver was minus Forrest, Perrecut and Green, and took on a new man, Tulk. Harvey pitched three innings, but the visitors found him ensy, and Jensing was put in his place. The visitors made 2 in the first innings and 6 in the third. At one time it looked like a shut out foy the home team. The unexpected happened, however—Pitcher Cook, for the visitors, got very wild in the fifth. He allowed 11 men to bases on balls and the Mount Vernon team got rattled, and as a result Vancouver caught up to them in the ninth and won out in the tenth. Vancouver got five hits off Cook and Mount Vernon got six hits off Harvey and two off Jensing. The score stood: Vancouver ... 0 0 0 0 2 4 3 0 2 1—12 Mount Vernon 2 0 6 0 0 2 1 0 0 0—11

Another Fair This Autumn

Meeting at City Hall Endorses Enterprise for This Financial Position Most Encouraging-Initiai Arrangements Now Under Way.

Victoria will have an agricultural exhibition this year again, and from the sentiments expressed at last night's meeting, the show fair of this city promises to be an annual fixture. The meeting was a most enthusiastic one, and from the outset manifested a spirit of confidence in the generous loyalty of the citizens in backing the enterprise.

The committee room at the City hal was well filled when His Worship Mayor Hayward took his seat at the head of the table and called the gathering to order. Amongst those present were Clarke, Beaumont Boggs and George L. Courtney.

After a little informal discussion, His Worship announced 'that though the council had not refused to assist by voting a grant to this year's fair, yet in view of the fact that the city had already paid out $7,000 this year to settle the accounts incurred over the last exhibition, some of which, of course, were for permanent and other improvements to the property, it might be well not to ask them for any more at the present time, and to see what could be done without its grant.

After an explanation by Secretary Beaumont Boggs that through a donation of $250 by the C. P. R., the bills of last year were about finally settled, last year's accounts were taken up and discussed item by item, with the view of possible economy and the getting of the best results from the money to be expended.

As a result of this, estimates of resistant and readilities a secondary and tree decision of the secondary and the getting of the last of the secondary and the getti

As a result of this, estimates of receipts and expenditures were arrived at, which showed most conclusively that with the generous co-operation of all citizens, a splendid exhibition could easily be held. The estimates were as follows:

Grant by Provincial Government...$
Gate money
General subscriptions
Membership fees
Sale of privileges
Sale of space
Petty receipts

Total$10,450

Prize list and horse racing, etc ... Attendants' wages Bands

Repairs to buildings 500

Total $10,250

Under the head of receipts, it was shown that the gate of last year was helped, but very little, by the presence at the exhibition of Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales, who, while adding to the attendance of the first day, caused a falling off on the others, the numbers being as follows: First day (opening by the Duke), 2,000 adults; second day, 2,500 adults; third day, 1,600 adults; fourth day, 2,500 adults; fifth day (horse racing meeting), 1,800.

The above statement being formally adopted on motion of Mr. Dalby, it was decided that the committees are to be strictly kept down to their respective appropriations, all overdrafts to be considered as their own personal indebtedness.

It was also decided that as Victoria bet searches also decided that as Victoria between the significant contents.

It was also decided that as Victoria had secured a place on the circuit of the North Pacific Fair association, the races would be made a most attractive feature

The names of Messrs, Watson, Clarke The names of Messrs, Watson, Clarke and George Sangster were added to the prize committee, to which the following gentlemen had been appointed: Dr. Tolmie, Fred. Norris, R. M. Palmer, W. J. Pendray, J. Shopland, A. Oleson and W. H. Price. This committee was then instructed to prepare the list so soon as possible and hand it to the printing committee for immediate publication, the list this year to contain no advertisement as was the case in former years,

The meeting then adjourned to be convened again at an early date.

All vegetation is at a standstill, both in this country and throughout a large part of Europe. So far, no actual damage has been done to the wheat crop, but it is becoming high time for decidedly milder weather to set in. A long continuance of a wind reminding one of Greenland's ley mountains or Iceland's ley sens is turning the blade of the wheat plant yellow and forcing the owner of live stock to give winter keep in mid-May, so that the chance of the proverbial wheat ear being discovered this month is becoming remote, indeed.—Liverpool Corn Trade.

BRADSTREET'S REPORT.

Toronto, May 30.—Wholesale trade at Montreal is active. The most seasonable weather of the past week has stimulated the demand for summer wear, and with the drop in the temperature, is slightly diminished. With demand for sorting roders in Ontario, there has been a very fair movement, and on the whole, probably the amount of business booked for May will exceed in a number of departments that taken in the same month last year. The prospects for the employment of labor at rair wages, large railway traffic returns and the increased demands from the West, have all contributed to impart a feeling in great confidence in the trade circles. Country remittances are fair for this season and city payments are good. There is a good demand for money and rates are steady.

and city payments are good. There is a good demand for money and rates are steady.

In Toronto this week, while cooler weather has not helped decrease the demand for seasonable goods, there has been a good steady demand for summer lines owing to the belief that the hot weather would soon affect the retail trade. There was a number of country buyers in the market this week, being attracted by the low railway fares on the Victoria Day holiday. The market for staple manufactures and dry goods trade, in hardware and metals, hides, leather, boots and shoes, how products and other lines, are in a very satisfactory position and stocks are not excessive. With prices of raw materials and increased firmness in the values of the finished product, the outlook is for an expanded deund fin regard to the fluture is more affecting in the product of the first of the control of the first of the control of the first of the control of the first of regard to the future is on of great confidence. Country remittances, which are never very prompt at this period, as farm deliveries fail off and country trade is only moderately good, is nevertheless fairly satisfactory. The demand for money here is good, and rates are rather easier. At Quebec the past week trade was very satisfactory. Although the wet wenther tended to decrease sales in retail circles, especially drygoods. Shoe manufactures, as a rule, are reported good, but the output of the support of the su province.

At the Pacific coast trade centres there is a better feeling among business men. The placing of the canning industry on a sound business basis is regarded as a feature which will add to the prosperity of the country. The lumber industry is netive, but there is a scarcity of fir and cedar logs. Payments are rather better.

Do that much, and I will do this:
I will send with the book an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I will tell the druggist to let you test it for a month. If satisfied, then the cost is $5.50. If not, I will pay your druggist myself.
It shall not cost you a penny.

Please note what that means.

I furnish the treatment, give you my best advice, answer all reletters. If I succeed, the cost is only $5.50, and the result is health.

If I succeed, the cost is only color, and succeed, the I fail, my effort and my medicine is free.

Can't you see that I must know how to cure?

The reason is this: I have spent a lifetime in learning how to strengthen the inside nerves. That nerve power is the force that operates every vital organ. It is to your body what steam is to an engine.

When any vital organ is weak and fails in its duty, I bring it the power it needs. The results are certain, and most chronic diseases cannot be cured in any other way.

My book will tell you why.

I don't mean that I never fail. I can always bring back this vital nerve power; but sometimes an organic disease, like cancer, makes a cure impossible.

But such conditions are rare. In any case, no matter how difficult, I will take the entire risk.

My records show that 30 in each 40 who get these six bottles pay for them—pay because they are cured. It is this remarkable record that makes such an offer possible.

There are 39 chances in 40 that I can cure you or your friend. It is absolutely certain that in most chronic diseases my treatment represents the utmost that medicine can do. It is certain, too, that no other physician will assume the risk, for no common treatment could stand a test like that. No matter what your prejudice or doubts, remember that I take the risk. I alone am the loser if I fail. And if I succeed, you are well.

Be fair with yourself. At least get my book. I am sorry for the sick one who can say "no" to my offer.

This is one of the largest shipments for the Canadian product that has been made to Australia, and shows that the flour manufactured in Canada is stinding favor in the Antipodes. It is a probable that this will be the first of many shipments, for the failure of the Australian grain crop will cause consumers in that country to look to Canada for four and grain. SIDNEY AND NANAIMO.

Arrangements For Victoria Terminal Company's Steamship Connections.

The Sidney and Nanaimo Transportation company was recently incorporated to maintain a steamship service beween Sidney and Nanaimo in connection with the Victoria and Sidney railway and Victoria Terminal system. The steamers Iroquois and Stratheona, lately acquired from the Hudsons' Bay company, will be taken over by the new company. The Stratheona, which will be replaced on the Skeena by the new sternwheeler now being completed at the Victoria Machinery Depot, will be towed down by the tug Albion, which leaves for Port Simpson on Monday. The Stratheona will give a daily service between Sidney and Crofton, and connecting with the Victoria Terminal train. Steamer Unican, of the United canneries, will make the run until the steamer Stratheona arrives. The tug Mystery is to tow the ferry barges. General Manager Anderson has been advised by wire from Ottawa that the act to incorporate the Victoria Terminal trail dispose of the apprehension caused by the Attorney-General's communication to the City Council. ON TRIANGLE ISLAND. Description of Wreckage Found There By Prospectors.

By Prospectors.

Walter Leak, one of the prospectors who made the trip to Triangle island on the tug Eagle a month ago, has given a description of the wreckage sighted on Triangle island, spoken of in the Colonist yesterday. There was a window sash of a cabin and a balaying pin. A number of white painted boards were also found. One piece of wreckage had the word "Doll" painted on it. There were some slabs, seemingly from the side of a sloop or fishing boat, broken pieces of oars, part of a fishermen's net, and what appeared to be the end board of a sloop. This wreckage seemed as if it had been there for some time.

There was a pilot house, evidently from a small vessel. It was painted white and finished inside with wood varnished a mahogany color. Two bones were found, which appeared to be those of a human being, one closely resembling the thigh bone of a man.

Schooner Crew See Strange Sights While on Voyage From Portland.

The schooner Winchester, which sailed from Portland with a cargo for Samon several months ago, has again reached her home port. San Francisco, and brought back with her a tale of mystery. On the outward voyage from Portland for the South Seas, Captain Christiansen says that at 6:45 p. m. on March 28, while lying becalmed in latitude 12 deg. north, longitude 166 deg. west, with overeast sky and an occasional rain cloud passing over from the east-southeast, he observed the sky to light up suddenly to a height of about 10 degrees and for 30 degrees along the horizon. The light was a red glow, northwest of the Winchester, and about 20 miles distant, so far as could be judged. The light remained for about 10 minutes, when a passing rain cloud obscured it, For another 10 minutes Captain Christiansen saw a bright white light, similar to a Welsbach in brilliancy, but larger, and not very distant, owing to the rain clouds. The captain made an effort togo in the direction of the lights, but was unsuccessful, owing to the lack of wind. He kept a bright light burning the night, and a sharp lookout. but saw no more of the strange lights after the moon rose a short time later.

"Canadians have come in for quite a torrent of praise in connection with their lacrosse tour now in progress through England. As you know, they have carried everything before them, and English players and English journalists are unqualified in their appreciation of the better methods of the Canadian team. This, they say, is the game as we in England must learn to play it. There is, of coure, another English point of view, the point of view of the man who for years past has played the game as England has understood it—a slow game; one might almost say, a more friendly kind of a game. Such an English player puts his point of view with a good deal of force in to-day's issue of the Outlook, and his remarks will be read with interest by Canadian exponents of the game. He says:

"It was unreasonable and ungrateful."

Canadian exponents of the game. He says:

The play had been interesting, and the ten thousand spectators, forgetting that they had come to St. John's Wood to see the King, had followed the game closely, and had applauded without a trace of insular condescension. Indeed the outstanding feature of the afternoon was the respectful attitude of the habitues of Lord's—the well-known figures connected so honourful attitude of the habitues of Lord's—the well-known figures connected so honourably with cricket—towards the nationl sport of a younger people. And yet I relt there was something missing. Lacrosse had come into her own: the Cinderella among sports, had attracted what none of her elder sisters (not cricket herself)—had ever done at Lord's—the attention of a king; but the old love had become strange. One realized that the previous indifference of the general pub-

AN EXPLANATION.

Mr. McBride's explanation as to the purpose he has had in view in obstructing the business of the legislature is not by any means convincing. Obstruction per se is a bad thing in every respect. It blocks the wheels of government good, bad, or indifferent. Such a course can only justify itself to men who either hate their country, or who are satisfied that an appeal to the people will reverse the policy they dislike, and lead to the adoption of the ideas they approve of.
We do not accuse Mr. McBride and his followers of hating their country, but ideas of which they may fairly claim the people should be the judges, and, apparently they do not even claim that they desire an immediate dissolution. The opposition is that he wishes the governent to bring forward its railway policy discussion before supply is granted. What can it possibly matter to the opposition whether the railway bills are considered before supply, or supply before the railways bills? But there is something else which makes this explanation look father thin. It is that ossibly the most violent obstruction of the session took place over an attempt to introduce the railway bills into the How does Mr. McBride recon-t with the explanation he now offers? He does not want a dissolution He obstructs the railway policy, or did do so. He obstructs supply. What is the real meaning of it, if it is not that he is determined to prevent government from being carried on at all, if he is not allowed to have a share in it himself. He may make explanations till Doomsday, but there is the real explanation of his conduct. He has been on a wrong his conduct. He has been on a wrong tack, and is now beginning to find it out. The people of British Columbia are not burning with that devotion he inspires in himself towards himself. When he comes down to terra firma again, he will have the makings of a political career in him. Fortunately for him peo ple have short memories, and he has time left to live down the reputation he has made for himself during the present

BETTER TERMS.

In the following paragraph the Times newspaper expresses a desire for information The buoyant revenues of the Dominion seem to constitute a grievance to the minds of the government party in the British Columbia legislature. When the leader of the auxiliary forces on the opposition side was explaining to the House the virtues of the government's late railway policy—it is understood the very latest creation will soon be brought down—a few days ago, the Minister of Finance interjected a remark to the effect that the progressive policy of the government was most effective in augmenting the revenues of the Dominion. The member for Vancouver of course heartily concurred in this view.—They both apparently regarded this as a most unfortunate state of affairs. The Premier also groune forth in his memorials that if the province had not been shorn of her right to collect duties, etc., she would not now be running behind at the rate of hundreds of thousands a The buoyant revenues of the Dominion

It would be very interesting to find out who was the first discoverer of this grievance against the Dominion government. If it be a wrong it has existed ever since we joined confederation. It was not brought up during the twenty years the Dominion was under Conservative rule. It is particularly noticeable that it was never thought of until the present Premier of British Columbia was installed in office.

Ave do not know who was the first dis-

We do not know who was the first discoverer of the fact that British Columbia was carrying the heavy end of the stick in her relations with the Dominion But we do know certain parties wh have at different times drawn forcible attention to the fact. There is a gentleman called Templeman, perhaps the Times does not know who he is, but he is a senator, a cabinet minister, and he hails from Victoria, B. C. In a speech made at Victoria West on the 31st day of December, 1895, this Mr. Templeman

December, 1895, this Mr. Templeman spoke as follows:

"Very little had been said during the campaign about Colonel Prior's action as a member of the House, and what he had succeeded in doing for the province. He had taken the trouble to go over the figures contrasting the amounts British Columbia contributed to the Government Exchequer with the amounts the province receives in return. In 1893, including all subsidies, the payment of judges, administration of justice, cost of maintaining the dry dock, the maintainence of the fisheries, the cost of the Quadra, and everything else the province of British Columbia received $750,000 less than we paid to the Dominion government. This has been the case for many years, and if it continues it means that the pockets of the people will be depleted. This should not be allowed to continue. (Applause.) tolerably clear and succinct, we publish an extract from a manifesto issued by Messrs, Templeman and G. L. Milne on the 17th of April, 1896:

Senator Templeman, purely and simply as a party question for the purpose of making capital against his opponents Now that a Liberal government is in power he has no further concern with he grievances of British Columbia. In fact the question of better terms having been taken up by the provincial governnent, not in a partizan spirit at all, he, actuated by that spirit endeavors to throw cold water upon its efforts. It terested in the Liberal party than in the

The American government officials at Seattle are calling for tenders for six-teen hundred tons of oats for shipment to Manila, by the transport Dix, early in June. This order has no doubt given rise to the erroneous report that oats were to be shipped to South Africa from Seattle.

dust on the Island of Jamaica will recall to readers the red sunsets which were such a memorable phenomenon in 1883, and which were s neen caused by the presence in the atmosphere of volcanic dust, after the terrific eruption of Krakaton in the Straits of Sunda, in the month of August of that year. It is too early yet to ascertain what sky effects will follow the transport of dust from the raging Martinique and St. Vincent volcanoes

The old, if vulgar saying that "a sucker is born every minute," is again exemplified in the recent expose of the Webb-Meyer syndicate's transactions in New York. Without a single cent of capital, and only the prestige of Dr. Seward Webb's name to inflate his halloons, Meyer succeeded in raising $6,-750,000 in hard cash for the sale of shares, which are, and always were, practically worthless. Of the property of two companies represented by $6, 000,000 worth of stock, none had any present earning value.

"The Preacher," in the Good Book, tells in "There is no new thing under the sun." It is the good Book, tells in "There is no new thing under the sun." It have been already of the line which was before us. "If you, Mr. Editor, will refer to the minutes of the proceedings of the Victoria City Council some thirty or thirty-two years back, you will find that an appropriation was made by the Board for the sprinkling of this city's streets with sait water. A circular tank was erected on the wharf now called Turner-Beeton's, and harbor water pumped into it. From this tank the carr's were supplied with sait water and the streets were sprinkled. The sait water seemed to blad the total water and the streets were sprinkled with sait water seemed to blad the cart's were supplied with sait water seemed to blad the cart's were supplied with sait water seemed to blad the sait water seemed to blad the sait water seemed to blad the sait water seemed to be a nulsance. Why the system was discontinued I never could understand. It is a puzzle to me to this day.

In justice to Mr. Sorby, perhaps I should say that he has not claimed the sait water lidea as originating with him, but has already in stanced an English example. He ways instanced an English example. He ways instanced in English example. He ways instanced in English example. It ways instanced in English example. On the other ways instanced and the sait water had been locally tried, and with, in my opinion, entire success.

Healthy and Sound Body Will Enable Us to Battle Against the Wrongs and Injuries of Our Enemies.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Banishes Disease, Establishes Health and Gives Us Physical Strength to Maintain Our Place in Life's Conflict.

Many of us find life hard and full of pain. While we cannot well avoid the sufferings that result from wrongs and injuries, we can keep ourselves from the pains and ravages of bodly alments and diseases, and maintain that full measure of health that will enable us to meet the wrongs that assail us from meet the wrongs that assail us from to meet the wrongs that assail us from day to day.

If you are rundown, fretful, despondent, irritable, sleepless, be assured you are becoming physically impaired and weakened. If the relaxed and sluggish action of the exerctory organs has loaded the blood and body with poison, producing headache, rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney and liver troubles; then disease is encircling you in its chains.

Prompt use of Paine's Cefery Compound will save the weakened parts of the body from yielding to disease. The great medicine saves weak and enfeebled nerves from prostration and removes every feeling of exhaustion and despondency. It cures and saves those who are bound by disease and suffering and gives them a new lease of life. Mrs. J. H. Pierce, King St., St. John, N.B., writes thus:

thus:

"I suffered terribly from constipation, weakness, nervousness, kidney and liver troubles; I was also subject to those tired, weary feelings, and had a slight touch of skin disease. The first dose of Paine's Celery Compound relieved me; and now, after having taken three bottles, I feel much better. I am not constipated, I have no weak feelings, and I can eat and sleep well. It is a grand remedy, and I hope all who read this may benefit by my recommendation."

Watkin XXX

Watkin Mills.—The foremost of England's great musical artists, Mr. Watkin Mills is now upon his way to the Pacific Coast for his first transcontinental tour, although this is his fifth visit to America. This illustrious bases is in constant demand at all of the great English festivals and important provincial concerts. Sir Fred'k Bridge, the eminent organist of Westminster Abbey, who has charge of the music for the Coronation, cabled Mr. Mills last week asking if it would not be possible for him to sing at the Abbey for the King's Coronation. Mr. Mills was forced to decline this honor, owing to the many return dates asked for in Eastern Canada. This big musical event, which takes place in the Victoria Theatre on Wednesday evening June 4, will gather together one of the largest audiences of the season. Mr. Mills is assisted by Mr. Edward Parlovitz, the noted Polish pianist, and Mr. Owen A. Smily, Canada's leading entertainer.

This is a move in the right direction, and it is hoped that the public will approve.

Commended to Public.—The secretary of the Board of Trade, Mr. F. Elworthy, yesterday received a letter from the Fernie Board of Trade asking the local board to co-operate in the raising of a fund for the relief of the sufferers by the disaster in the Crow's Nest Pass mine. A special meeting of the councif of the board was called, and a resolution of sympathy with the sufferers was passed, and their needs commended to the public. It was considered inadvisable to start an independent fund as many of the members of the board have already contributed to the fund being raised through the efforts of Mayor Hayward, and the newspapers of the city.

Belleville Street.

The City Council has decided to carry the James Bay reclaiming wall along the front of Belleville street as far as Menzies, the amount voted by the rate-payers for the reclamation of the flats being sufficient to build this extra section of wall. The wall will be built on a modified plan of the proposed Paardeberg Gate, a broad flight of steps leading from the roadway to the water's edge. This will give the wall a grently improved appearance and besides will add to the beauty of the Parliament buildings by providing a wide esplanade in front of them. The steps and wall too will be built in conformity with the design of the buildings.

The main wall across the mouth entrance to the bay is now nearing completion. A couple more layers of stone will bring it up to the level of Government street. The work is proceeding splendidly, the workmen being kept supplied with stone, in fact the contractor for supplying stone has a lot rendy for delivery, which the city engineer is not yet ready to receive. The big dredge is expected next month, and then it will be a very short time before the flats are a thing of the past.

Workmen have for several days been building platforms on which to mix the concrete to be used in the extension of the wall along delleville street.

Skins Released.—The Seattle customs officials yesterday received a decision from Washington ordering the final release of the $50,000 consignment of seal-skins seized on the schooner J. B. Ward when that vessel arrived from Unalasta some time ago. The skins were consigned to Petkovits. The release was made upon the representation that the skins were taken outside of the limits in which the natives had killed the seals for food, Bothwell, visited the parliament buildings yesterday, and paid the customary tribute to their worth and architectural magnificence. While not so luxuriously furnished as those of Toronto, the latter are a long way behind in point of beauty as also of internal design. the grounds and charge. The boys hope the ladies will appreciate this action by turning out in full force.

Today score cards will be provided free of charge, and will be given to every one upon entering the grounds.

The personnel of the team has been changed somewhat, Burnes, the star fielder playing second base, and Captain Smith going out in centre field. Haynes will be on his old position on third base, where he has been practising steadily all week. McConnell will not be available for this game, but Rithet will fill the vacancy between second and third base, while Robinson, who played with the Amittes in 1894, will fill the initial bag. Robinson, besides being a good infielder, is a very heavy batter. Holness, the star twirler will be in the box. He is none the worse for his hard work of last week, his arm being as strong as ever. Potts and Gowen will decorate the right and left gardens respectively, and Schwengers will do the catching. The line up of the two teams is as follows: Schwengers. Catcher Jones Holness Pitcher.

Stars 7. James Bays to Play at Beacon Hill This Morning.

The return baseball game between the Stars, formerly the South Parks, and the James Bays, will take place at Beacon Hill at 10 o'clock this morning. The Stars won the last match, the score being 18 runs to 17. As the teams are so evenly matched, a struggle is expected today. The James Bays will put the same team in the field on this occasion, but the Star nine is as follows: Catcher, F. Holman; pitcher, J. Laurie; 1b., W. Scott; 2b., W. Ross; cs., G. H. Larrigan (capt.); 3b., B. C. Ross; c.f., T. Gray; l.f., W. Locke; r.f., V. Irwin.

COLONIST VS. FERNWOODS.

Above Teams Will Cross Bats at Beacon Hill This Afternoon.

The Colonist and Fernwood baseball nines will meet at Beacon Hill at 2 o'clock this afternoon, when a very fast game is expected. The Colonist boys have not lost a game so far this season. The Wanderers and the Firemen both went down to defeat before the heavy-nitting newspaper boys. However, the Fernwoods have a rattling good team, and are confident of lowering the colors of the Colonist. Several changes have been made in the Colonist nine. D. La More, a new pitcher from San Francisco, will twirl today, and is expected to make the Fernwoods fan the air. H. Northeott will support him behind the bat. Overell, formerly the shortstop, goes to second base and H. McConnell, who pitched against the Wanderers, will hold down third base. All the Fernwood men are old players. Camsua, the pitcher, is speedy, and his curves are very puzzling. R. B. King holds him down in fine style. T. Burgess, on second, is a crackajack, and the other players, are all up to the mark. The teams are as follows:

Colonist—Catcher, H. Northeott; pitcher, D. La More; 1b., J. Scott; 2b.,

JUNIOR LACROSSE.

Match This Afternoon Between Capitals and Centrals.

The Capital City Athletic association will put a junior lacrosse team in the field to meet the junior Centrals at the Caledonia grounds this afternoon. The Capital City team is as follows: Goal, B. Pike; point, F. Cullin (capt.); cover point, J. McDonell; 1st defence, B. Johnson; 2nd defence, A. Mulcahy; 3rd defence, N. Scott; centre, T. Gawley; 3rd home, H. Roskamp; 2nd home, J. Fawcett; 1st home, W. Cullin; outside home, J. Simpson; inside home, J. Edmonds. The Capital City Athletic association has only been recently organized, but already there are a large number of ciation has only been recently organized, but already there are a large number of names on the membership list. The club intends to encourage young athletes and train them right along, and for this reason the public should support the game today. A lesson has been taken in Victoria's recent defeat at the hands of New Westminster, and the junior lacrosse league is formed with the idea of systematically training young players until they enter the intermediate and senior ranks. The admission fee for today's game is only 10 cents, and it is hoped that a large crowd will go out and encourage the boys, who will some day uphold the honor of Victoria as senior players.

Quarterly Visit of City Officials to Lepers of Darcey Island.

Four Unfortunates Show the Increased Ravages of the Disease.

On a small island, 17 miles from Victoria, and in the course of steamers plying up and down the Gulf, are four prisoners for life—Chinese lepers who are immured on Darcey island because of their fell disease. Yesterday was a red letter day with these unfortunates, for the tug Sadie left the city at 3 p.m. and took up their quarterly supply of provisions, and the city health officers and a small party made their periodical visit. To three of the unfortunates the visit brought gratification; to the other disappointment. The three were glad because of the new boots, the clothing, foods, pork, chicken, wheat and the various bigs and boxes, from loaves of bread to boxes of oranges, which the city officials took up for them and landed on the verandah of their row of cabins; the course the the health officers refused to take him from the island to another one. He had his blankets and effects rolls up, and was ready to go, but the interpreter explained that he must remain—he was immured for life on the island—and the unfortunate cried in his despair.

The disease has made rapid advancement since the last visit of the steamer. The young man who was taken up from this city less than a year ago, who is suffering from the disease in the scaly shir form, has much more of his body covered than when the officials made the inst trip; the unfortunate man from Vancouver, who has been five years on the island, has had more of his diseased body mortified, and now his left hand, which is swollen up three times its natural size, is dead. The fingers are doubled up on the terribly swollen palm, and the hand covered with leprosy is without feeling or use to the wrist. His other hand is minus the fingers, which have fallen off, and his right foot is twisted sadly out of shape by the diseased nerves—for this unfortunate man has both the skin and nervous forms of the disease. His face is plainly indicative of his suffering from the nervous leprosy, long furrows being drawn down the cheeks, his wide-open eyes pleading vainly for crief.

cheeks, his wide-open eyes pleading vainly for relief.

When Dr. Robertson examined this man as he sat on the upturned box in the little cabin doorway, the suffering Chinaman patiently held up his misshapen hand and arm for the doctor's inspection. The doctor saw at once that the hand was mortified, useless, a dead member dangling on the living arm, and he offered to amputate the hand. Hope, although faint, was not dead in the mind of the victim, however, and he refused to believe that the hand, so sadly swollen out of shape, was dead. Touching his useless fingers, which could not bend with their own muscles, he said: "Him getting better now; no cut him"—and the doctor left the hand as it was "s'pose you cut him off, not can cook," said the victim—and that he may cook in his awkward way, he is allowed to retain the dead hand.

Dr. Robertson bandaged his leprous away the victim's wife from his household, for he blamed her for his affliction.

There were few questions asked for iost friends by the lepers; only the young man recently sent up from Victoria—the last sent to the island—asking about relatives. Had his uncle gone to the cannery yet? he asked. The missionary answered in the affirmative, and then the latest victim of the island cursed that uncle, who, he said, had brought him from China to Victoria, although he suffered from the disease. Had he remained in China he would never have been imprisoned on an island. Vainly the missionary and interpreter preached religion to him; he had no time to listen, he said, and he hurried backward and forward to carry the boxes, cases and lags of supplies to the cabins. He is the strong man of the leper colony, for the others—mostly without hands and with their toes eaten off by the disease, the mouths and nerves ever twitching with the nervous leprosy—are not ablo to toil as he is; and he bears the brunt of the arduous labor.

His companion—the old man who lives in the addoning cabin—has almost lost in the addoning cabin—has almost lost to toil as he is; and he bears the brunt of the arduous labor.

His companion—the old man who lives in the adjoining cabin—has almost lost his voice as a result of the inroads of the disease. His fingers have fallen from his hands, and he has a distorted face and leprous scaled body. He argued with the missionary and the interpreter regarding the benefits of Christianity, but was much more interested in the supplies brought by the tug. Was the sugar Chinese sugar or granulated? Had they brought chicken wheat? Could they bring more chickens?—these were but a few of the things he wanted to know. He has been at the island for rome years and has forgotten his friends. The missionary asked if he wanted to send a message to any friends in Victoria, and he replied in the negative. What friends he had were forgotten, he said, and they had forgotten him. The Chinese left him tracts and a copy of the Gospel of St. Mark.

The cher of the four was the disappointed man. He had all his blankets, and their mortined limbs are not sensitive to the thrust of a pin or knife.

The city supplies the unfortunates well with provisions—the supply being well with provisions—the unfortunates well with provisions—the supply being well with provisions—the supply being well with provisions—the supplies the unfortunates well with provisions—the unfortunates well with provisions—the supplies the unfortunates well with provisions—the supplies the unfortunates well with provisions—the supplies the well with provisions—the supplies the unfortunates well with provisions—the unfortunates well with BABY'S OWN TABLETS For Children of All Ages. This medicine is good for all little ones from birth onward. It will quickly relieve and promptly cure all the stomach, bowel and other troubles which make children thin, sickly, fretful and sleepless. It stops pain, promotes digestion, regulates the bowels, sweetens the stomach and gives little ones healthy natural sleep. These Tablets contain no opiate or other harmful drug, and crushed to a powder can be given with absolute safety to the littlest, feeblest child. Saved Baby's Life. Mrs. G. H. Purvis, Brockville, Ont., says :- " I began ising Baby's Own Tablets when my baby was two weeks old. He was very delicate, was troubled with indigestion and cried all the time. He was constipated, had cramps vomited and would scream with pain, and the Tablets were the only medicine that really did him any good. When I first gave him the Tablets I really thought baby would not live, but in one day he began to improve, and in a few days was altogether better. I can conscientiously recommend the A Guarantee. Tablets to any mother whose baby is troubled with indigestion and constipation, as I think the Tablets saved my baby's life. I am sure if all mothers knew as much about the Table s as I do they would not be without them in the Every mother should keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house in case of emergency. The disease has not affected all in the same way. One has what medical men call the Leonine type—he whose voice is almost gone. The features are thickening and his heavy brows and general appearance is suggestive of the features of the lion. This man has also the tubercular form of the disease, and is much enfeebled by its inroads. Two others have the nervous form of leprosy, and their mouths are agape and their faces shrunken and members twisted as a result of the contraction of the affected nerves; while the other has the bark scales over his breast, hands, feet and face. All have a dry, scaly skin, non-sensitive to pain where the leprosy has marked them, and their mortified limbs are not sensitive to the thrust of a pin or knife.

send a message to any friends in Victoria, and he replied in the negative. What friends he had were forgotten, he said, and they had forgotten him. The Gospel of St. Mark.

The other of the four was the disappointed man. He had all his blankets and effects rolled up, and was ready to leave when the tug arrived—and great was his disappointment. He had been at the island for some years, and must have known that those who came never left, but hope makes men strong. He told his troubles to the missionary as he ried, while the Chinese endeavored to draw his attention vainly toward religion. No, he said, he would not listen to the Christian religion. He had his jess, and he worshipped the joss.

Sitting at the little bench at the cabin window which did duty for a table, he punched his head with his fingerless hands as he cried in his despair, while the missionary continued to preach to him. He told of how he wanted to go some other island. He would do anything, he said, if he could only be taken away to some small island and lert there all allow, with no other lepers to annoy him or quarrel with him—for he says he has no peace with his neighboring victims in the other cabins of the frame building which houses all the unfortunates. He would live in a cabin as small as the little chicken house fronting his cabin, in anything, if he could only go to some other island.

Lifting a rust-covered knife, he spoke of his grievances. "See," he said, "they will not give me any of the new knives the boat brings; only the knife of a dead man." It was the knife of a dead man." It was the knife which had belonged to one of the dead lepers that he held, and as he handled it, he asked again and again, "Can a nanu use the knife of the dead and have luck?" The dead man's knife was his hoodoo, he claimed, and his safferings increased while he had it. He had other com-

Railway Bills Pass the First Reading-Obstruction In Supply.

Select Committee's Report on Charges Against Atlin Gold Commissioner

Legislative Chamber, May 30, 1902. Mr. Speaker took the chair at 2:30 p.in.

Rev. Henry J. Wood offered prayer.
Mr. Gilmour drew attention to the fol-lowing report of his remarks on the bill respecting trades unions which appear-ed in the Colonist; respecting trades unions which appeared in the Colonist:

"Mr. Gilmour supported the bill. He believed in having the unions properly protected, but they should not be given powers that might reduce them to the same class as anarchists, where Mr. Curtis' bill would have landed them."

He had not intended to convey any such impression. What he said was to the effect that an anarchist society might order one of its members to commit a murder and the vengeance of the law would fall upon the wretched perpetrator of the crime, while the originators of the plot might escape all punishment. He held that the real criminals were the ones who should be punished, and in the case of a trades union which authorized, or connived at, an unlawful act, he believed the union should be held more guilty than its agent.

Mr. Martin asked if it was true, as ie-ported, that Mr. Harvey, of Fort Steele, was acting on behalf of the government at the Fernie inquest?

Hon. Mr. Eberts said Mr. Harvey had been employed to watch the inquest ip behalf of the government, as no other nothing left for public works, and consequently the province was obliged to borrow large sums.

Last session he had drawn the attention of the government to the system of small holdings, and he pointed out that his constituency of Richmond afforded a good field in which to extend the system. Those who had gone in there had done wonderfully well, and many more would establish themselves if they could secure the land. He would look upon it as a misfortune if the government neglected to set apart small holdings in Richmond and Vancouver municipalities.

He also drew attention to the necessity of assisting the development of Pemberton Meadows. The government had taken steps to establish a colony in the Bulkley valley, and had undertaken a large expenditure for a road into that district. He regarded this as an experiment, and argued that Pemberton Meadows was more accessible and a much more favorable district for settlement, on account of the fertility of the soil and its proximity to the markets. There was some 30,000 acres of land available for cultivation only requiring a good road to bring it into almost immediate use for settlement.

Mr. Hunter said he knew the Pemberton Meadows very well. The buildbehalf of the government, as no other counsel was available.

Mr. Martin said he was informed that this Mr. Harvey was now the subject of an investigation for alleged misconduct. He thought it strange that he should be employed by the government while this investigation was pending.

Mr. Curtis drew attention of the Hon. the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works to a case of a mine being closed for a week because the boiler inspector was not on the ground to pass upon certain repairs made to a boiler. He was proceeding to read an article from the Rossland Miner when he was called to order.

QUESTIONS.

Curtis asked the Hon. the Minister a Of the land grant made by virtue of the result of the British Columbia Statutes 1884 to secure the building of the Estmatt and Nanaimo raliway! what acrebase been sold by the Esquimait and naimo Raliway company, and is now essed and taxed?

Of the unsold lands still held by such upany;

(a) What acreage is now "used by the ompany for other than railroad purposes," and thereby, under said chapter 14, made able to taxation?

(b.) What is this acreage used for?

(c.) For what amount is it assessed?

(d.) What was the amount of the taxes ayable thereon for the year 1901? and (e.) Have these taxes for such year been aid?

Mr. Curtis asked the Hon, the Minister Finance the following question:

Of the $131,053.65 real property tax, of the $73,35,07 wild land tax, or the $75,694.71 personal property tax, and of the $22,232.06 income tax leyied for the year 1901, how much of each such taxes was collected during the year ending 31st December, 1901?

COMMITTEE OF SUPPLY.

The adjourned debate on Mr. Green's amendmen to the motion to go into supply was resumed by Mr. Fulton. It had been charged by the government that the opposition had pursued a course of pure obstruction, but he denied this. The opposition had acted with a clear and definite purpose. They had considered it their duty to delay the passing of the estimates until the government had presented a definite railway policy which would commend itself and secure the support of the House. He reviewed the public receipts and expeditures for the past five years to show that the increase of civil service salaries had been out of Hunter in the chair.

Mr. McBride resumed the debate on the first yote, 8229,768.43 for interest. He took up the Loan Act of 1877 and discussed the objects for which that loan was authorized. In continuation of his remarks, he declared the opposition were prepared to delay the passing of the estimates for two months, or two years, if necessary, to force the government to a dissolution. After speaking for nearly an hour, Mr. McBride moved the adjournment of the debate, and the committee rose and reported.

The consideration of the bill to Incorporate the Vancouver General Hospital was resumed in committee of the whole, Mr. Taylor in the chair. Section 25, providing that municipalities sending indigent patients to the hospital should be liable for the cost of their treatment, was struck out.

The following amendment, proposed by Mr. Martin, was adopted:

"This act shall not come into force or have any effect unless and until it has been approved by a majority of the municipal electors of the city of Vancouver intitled to vote on money by-laws. The council of the city of Vancouver is hereby authorized to hold an election for that purpose in the manner provided by law."

proportion with the increase of revenue, and he deprecated the cutting down of the appropriations for public works, Mr. Kidd said the financial position of the province did not justify an increase in the civil service salaries. The population of the province had doubled in 10 years, but the expenses of government had also doubled. The cost of the civil service had increased two and a half times. He quoted a long table of figures in support of his contention that the cost of the civil service and administration of justice was increasing to an alarming

Mr. McPinings opposed the ginematement, using arguments similar to those which he advanced when the same proposition was made last session.

Mr. McBride argued at some length in favor of the amendment.

Mr. Kidd urged the House to abide by the law as it stood. His amendment of last session was a safeguard to the public, and the legal profession. It permitted solicitors to make contracts with their clients, but it protected the latter from extortion.

Mr. Helmcken complimented Mr. Kidd upon his amendment of last session. If the amendment were adopted the portion of the barrister's oath abjuring the practice of champerty and maintenance would have to be struck out. The law as it stood afforded ample protection to both lawyers and clients, and there was no good reason for altering it.

Mr. McPhillips regretted having to disagree with his leader, Mr. McBride, but he could not follow him in support of this amendment. He continued to argue against the amendment at considerable length, and concluded by warning the House against passing such dangerous legislation.

Mr. Martin's amendment was carried on a vote of 14 to 9.

The words relating to champerty in the barrister's oath was struck out on motion of Mr. Martin.

Mr. McPhillips proposed in amendment the insertion of a new section and, in order to enable members to consider; the moved that the committee rise and report progress, which was carried.

ATLIN INVESTIGATION. ATLIA FAVESTIGATION.

The following is the report of the select committee appointed to inquire into the charges made against J. D. Graham, gold commissioner for Atlin, by C. W. Sawers:

Victoria, May 30, 1902 Victoria, May 30, 1902.
To the Honorable the Speaker, Legislative Assembly of British Columbia;
Sir: The select committee appointed to inquire into the charges made against J. D. Graham, gold commissioner of Atlin, by C. W. Sawer, have the honor to report as follows:
Charge 1.—That Mr. Graham himself owned the building in question.
The committee cannot upon the evidence hold that Mr. Graham was the owner of the building.
Charge 2.—That during the moving he stated that he was lending it to the gov-a good road to bring it into almost immediate use for settlement.

Mr. Hunter said he knew the Pemberton Meadows very well. The building of a wagon road would be differed in dispersion of the dispersion of the opposition with incoasistency in objecting to reasonable and necessary increases in the civil salaries list. At former sessions those same gentlemen had made no objections to the increases which had been made necessary by the development of the province. He twitted the opposition with having receded from their declared position—that they would not allow the estimates to pass unless the government would consent to dissolve the House and appeal to the country on their railway policy. Now they were content that the government should submit their railway policy to the approval of the House—a complete and abject backdown. He proceeded to draw am amusing picture of the disastrous result of a dissolution upon the hon, the leader of the opposition, who would find himself without a following.

Mr. A. W. Smith claimed that not, soll stated that he was lending it to the gov ernment.

Mr. Graham did not deny making this statement, but that if made, it was made in a jocular way.

Charge 3.—That it could not have been sold at the time for $100.
The committee cannot say there was to Pemberon Meadows, there was practically no land under cultivation and very few settlers. The greater part of the country was flooded every year, and he would consider it little short of a cruelty to induce settlers to go into it. The place was only fit for a penal colony—he would not even condemn the opposition to go and live there (Laughter.) Mr. Kidd produced the following declaration as a refutation of Mr. Smith's statements: Loss of Flesh and Weight the body? It is possible, of course, to add fat by the use of fish oils, but the tissues created by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are firm and natural. The blood is thoroughly enriched and the nerve force replenished. Pallor and weakness give place to a healthy complexion and strength of mind and body. Langour and discouragement are driven out to make way for vigor, new hope and confidence.

It might be worth your while to make a test of this great food cure as a builder of flesh and muscle. Note your weight when beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and watch the gradual increase may be slight owing to the winsting process, which must be stopped. Then, naturally and certainly, the whole system is built up and perfect health and vitality restored to every part of the body.

Mr. A. R. Fawcett, the well known editor and proprietor of The Leader and Recorder, Toronto Junction, writes: "It is very seldom that I need medicine of any description, but this spring I got so badly run down and out of sorts generally that I became somewhat alarmed. Chancing to read a testimonial about the results derived from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, from a gentleman whose case seemed to be identical with my own, I purchased a box, and commenced using it.

The following railway bills were reported from committee of the whole, and were given their first reading:
To aid the construction of a railway from Victoria to Yellow Head Pass, To aid the construction of a railway from Midway to Vernon.
To aid the construction of a railway from Midway to Vernon.
To aid the construction of a railway from Midway to Vernon.
To make the construction of a railway from Kitimaat to Hazelton, Amendments to the report on the Victoria and Yellow Head Pass railway were moved by Messrs, Oliver and Neill, and defeated by votes of 19 to 15.

of the sale. Charge 4.—That a building of similar construction could have been erected for less than $200, and in one day. The committee are not of the view that the building could ever have been erected for less than $200, and in one day.

duty was such that in the view of the committee the buildings in question were acquired at a price much greater than the real worth of the buildings, and the committee cannot but feel that the circumstances will go to prove that Mr. Graham was not as diligent in the public interest as he might have been.

that the building count ever many corected for less than $200, and in one day.

Charge 5.—That it was not used for the fever patients, but as a kitchen and living room for the nurse, the natients being confined in a large tent.

The committee find that the building was acquired at the request of Dr. Lewis, the medical officer and was at first used for fever patients. Later it was used as a kitchen and living room for the nurse, the patients being confined thereafter in a large tent.

Charge 6.—That at the time it was not a necessity. During the previous winter tents were used for hospital purposes, and this building was not used until after the 26th of April, 1901.

The committee hold that as the building was required by the medical officer, Mr. Graham proceeded rightly in acquiring same.

To sum un: The committee hold that with the knowledge Mr. Graham had of the condition of affairs at Atlin at that time and the number of buildings occupied, or for sale, that although he was protected by the appraisement and award, that not with that not with standing same. George Henry
